Report on Activities during the the Lockdown Period

Agurchand Manmull Jain College has been proactive keeping in mind its own Core Value "Parasparopagraho Jivanam" - 'The function of the soul is to help one another' during the lockdown period. The college with the thrust from the Management has initiated the following educative and creative methods with an active support of the teachers to help the students

- To handle the stress created due to the sudden lockdown
- To effectively prepare for their upcoming University Examinations
- To instil the confidence that the future is safe as the college is "Self Reliant" with regard to digital interventions

Activities Initiated:

1. A Digital Learning Module was drafted and all teachers were given exposure and to hone their skills to provide support to students online
2. Question Banks for all the courses were shared with students and answers were also provided by the teachers
3. University question papers of the last three to five years were discussed with the students by the teachers
4. Assessment of students were done online on need basis
5. A list of online activities (as given below) were initiated by the various departments to instil confidence in the students that the Institution is "Self Reliant" to disseminate quality higher education that is affordable
